

How to Assign Crops

When you have created your fields, the next step is to assign the crops you currently grow on them. FIELD MANAGER recommendations take various crop data - variety, resistances, seeding date, etc., into account. It is important to put in the right information.

Recommendations and the risk levels on your fields can only be given after you have assigned your crops.

You have three options to assign crops to your fields.

1. Immediately after field creation

- Go ahead and directly create your crop season by clicking Assign crop.

Select Fields
Once you have successfully created a field, use this option to add more fields for season assignment

Assign crop
Click and proceed to create your season

Exit
Click to exit the season creation

2. On the Status screen

- Click on an empty field and you will see the option to Assign crop.

Status

You have 1 field(s) with recommendations

3. In the History menu

- Click anywhere on the timeline to assign crop.

When you click Assign crop you will see a new screen with two steps: Crop & Variety and Seeding & Harvesting

1. On the first screen - Crop & Variety, select the crop and the variety by choosing from the options in the drop-down menu.
2. Add your Previous crop and Tillage system

Add fields
You can add more fields and create your season for multiple fields at one go

Exit
Click to exit the process

Next
Click to proceed

3. In the next screen - Seeding & Harvesting, type in your seeding date and yield expectation.
4. If you are adding a past crop season, check the box below Harvested? and enter the harvest date and actual yield.

Back
Click to go back to Crop & Variety or just directly click on the tab

Exit
Click to exit the process

Save
Save to create your season

5. Click Save and you will be redirected to the Status screen.
